

Dee And Deaw Adventure with ASEAN

Singapore

Come to think about Lod Chong
Singapore again,
is it come from Singapore? .

IT'S NOT! It's local dessert in South East Asia, popular in Indonesia, Malaysia, Vietnam and Singapore.

If it is true why they called it Lod Chong Singapore? You are asking me this right? Because it was sold opposite the Singapore Cinema at Yao na rat (one district in Bangkok). So when time passed this word was shorten. If you want to taste the original one you can go there, it's still selling Lod Chong nowadays.

Whatever I need to know more about Singapore, would you mind?

Let's get going then.

Merlion is half lion and fish that spray water out from his mouth.
It's 24 Hr. spraying water no holiday for him.

It's like a symbol of Singapore! The Merlion!

If you come to Singapore
you can't miss this place!

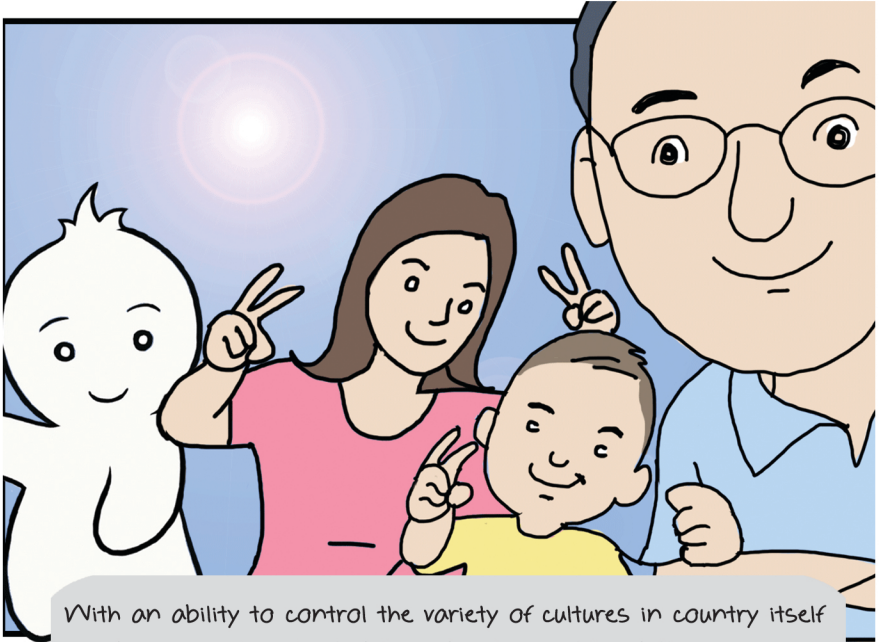

Merlion was built to face the sea because none of any building will be blocking the view of its face. It's designed since 1964 for Singapore Tourist Department.

Singaporeans are hardworking and ambitious. They also are optimistic and adaptive.

And past 10 years the government has made a great education system including putting these characteristic of success to their children.

With an ability to control the variety of cultures in country itself and knowing how to find the advantage of the difference gives Singapore to be strong country with many cultures. Moreover, they believe that family is the most important unit in social. They give high value to family and they give this to children.

Officially the Republic of Singapore is a sovereign city-state and island country in Southeast Asia. The President of the Republic of Singapore is Singapore's head of state (6 years). The prime minister is the head of the government (5 years) while the position of president is largely ceremonial. The current President of Singapore is Tony Tan Keng Yam.

Characteristic of Singaporean; the country is far more important than themselves, families are important because they are like a base for another to build up, respect in human's rights in religions.

Let's go home, I'm so hungry. I just can't stop to think about Lod Chong Singapore.

Okay, here we go.
